LOUISA, LAWRENCE COUNTY, KENTUCKY, AUGUST 31, 1906.

M. F. CONLEY, Publisher

SENATOR WATSON

Receives Instructions of Lawrence County for Congress.

Democrats of Lawrence county met at the Court House in Louisa on Tuesday, the 28th, to select and instruct delegates to the Congressional convention to be held at Maysville on Sept. 1st.

County Chairman, Bert Shannon, called the convention to order. Jas. Q. Lackey was elected Chairman and W. J. Vaughan, Secretary. After the adoption of the following resolutions and the naming of a number of delegates the convention adjourned:

Be it resolved by the Democrats of Lawrence county in convention assembled that we approve the call of this convention and of the District Convention at Maysville on Sept. 1st for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress.

That we reaffirm our allegiance to the great principles of Democracy, which have stood the tests of time and lived without change through all the vicissitudes that have come to the government of the United States since its inception. It is the only party that has existed from the beginning of the establishment of a free government on the American continent.

That we join in the almost universal call for the peerless W. P. Bryan to again become our leader in the next presidential race, believing that he will win over any opponent that may be put up by the Republican party. The country has had time to become convinced of the ability, purity and conservatism of Mr. Bryan and we believe he will be the next president of the United States.

Resolved that it is the sense of this convention that the delegates from Lawrence county to the convention at Maysville be instructed to cast the vote of this county for Senator M. G. Watson for Congress as long as his name shall be before that convention, and use all honorable means to secure his nomination. He has led the party to victory whenever a nomination was placed in his hands, and has served his constituency faithfully and to their entire satisfaction. We believe he is worthy of any honor that is within our power to confer upon him.

Louisa to the Front.

In more ways than one, and in several fields of labor, Louisa keeps abreast of the times. And the many bright young men who have gone out from this town and its vicinity are by no means the least of the forces that work for her distinction. "Doc" Johnson is one of these. Honors have been heaped upon him and they follow him. Read the following:

The Ohio Mechanics Institute, a School of Technology and Industrial Art, founded 1828.

Chincinnati, O., July 21, 1906.

Prof. J. R. Johnson,

Reno, Nevada.

My dear Sir:

I have just had an interview with Prof. Paul Anderson of the State College of Lexington, Ky., and he has very kindly recommended you to a position in this school. I am satisfied with your ability as a teacher and am ready to offer you $1500 a year with an increase at the end of this year, provided your work proves satisfactory to us. Please let me know by early mail if you care to come to us.

The work is Mechanical Drawing and Elementary Engineering and such other work as will naturally grow out of this.

I mail you today, under separate cover, a copy of our catalogue, which please examine and let me hear from you without delay.

Respectfully,

J. L. SHEARER

Pretty flattering sort of an offer. But Professor Johnson has a better position, at least from a pecuniary standpoint, and he has decided to go to the Queen City. He has the assurance of the Chair of Mathematics in the State Normal School to be established at Richmond, which opens January first, but he will get a leave of absence to finish at Reno and begin at Richmond in the fall of 1907.

The News congratulates Prof. Johnson on his preferment, and points to him as an object lesson to all our young men who have the laudable ambition to rise in the world.

A Beautiful Wedding.

One of the best and prettiest of the many girls who have made Louisa noted for the beauty and worth of its women, sweet Emily Northup, has left the home which she brightened and blessed by her presence, to become the helpmeet, the cherished wife and companion of another. Last Saturday morning in the presence of an assemblage composed of kindred and a very few close friends she was united in holy matrimony to Mr. J. M. Turner, "Mac," as he is better known, winning a bride who is fit to grace any home in the land. Rev. Mr. Hampton, rector of the Episcopal church, Ironton, an esteemed friend of the bride and her family, was the officiating Minister, and never did the beautiful marriage service of the church appear more fitting.

The bride was most becomingly gowned, and in these nuptial robes she looked charming. How could she look otherwise.

Three pretty nieces, Mary Emily, Virginia and Martha Russell, were the flower girls, the buds and blossoms in their hands yielding a wealth of perfume and brightening the happy occasion with their beauty. Miss Kate Freese and Miss Lucy Wood, tastefully dressed and looking exceedingly well, attended the bride as maids, and Senator M. G. Watson, an intimate friend of the groom, bravely supported him during the interesting ceremony. Miss Freese, Dr. Watson and Mr. Geo. R. Burgess were the only persons present who were not akin to the happy couple. The bride's maid of honor, Mrs. F. T. D. Wallace, thus emphasizing the fact that it was in truth a home wedding. Mr. Phil Turner, the brother of the groom, missed his train and was thus denied the pleasure of being present.

Mr. Mac Turner is a young man of decided ability, worth and promise. He comes of good old Maryland stock, is of exceptionally good habits, and holds the responsible position of Resident Engineer, C. & O. Railway. And so Emily Northup, the youngest daughter of Col. and Mrs. Jay H. Northup, the devoted companion and affectionate child, was married, and the News only voices the hopes and wishes of all who know her that all the days of her wedded life may be cloudless, prosperous and happy.

Those present at the marriage as guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell and children, Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. F. T. D. Wallace; Mrs. Frances Harrington, Albany; Miss Lucy Wood, Buffalo; Miss Kate Freese; Dr. M. G. Watson and George R. Burgess. After the ceremony the company sat down to an elaborate luncheon consisting of everything seasonable and good. Being driven to the N. & W. depot in Ft. Gay Mr. and Mrs. Turner, in a rain of rice and a myriad of good wishes, took the train for Ashland and thence to the groom's home in Maryland. My Maryland! After October first they will be at home in Ashland.

MACHINE SHOP

To Be Built Here by the Government for Repair Purposes.

Lock No. 3 is to have a new machine shop which will be used for the repair and reconstruction of machinery for all the locks and dams on the river—a general repair shop as it were.

This shop will be in charge of head Lockmaster, T. J. Snyder. The power will be supplied by a gas engine and the equipment of the shop will be modern in every respect.

The building will be on the W. V. side and will be of concrete blocks. Its dimensions will be 24x36. It will be constructed by the U. S. and ground will be broken shortly.

Dam No. 3 will have a new maneuvering boat or derrick barge. This is the boat which handles and places the movable parts of the dam when it is being raised. The boat now in use is too small to handle the large new parts of the dam. The new boat will be 26 x 60 with large derrick and hoisting engine. It will be built by the U. S. at Louisa.

The new steel parts for the repair of Dam No. 3 have arrived. The work of installation has been thus far delayed by the unusually high summer stage of the river.

Mr. G. A. Nash's baby has been very sick, but we are glad to say that it is now better.

COUNTY FAIR

Will Be Held In Louisa on October 12th and 13th.

GET YOUR PRODUCTS READY FOR EXHIBIT.

The Lawrence County Fair will be held this year on Friday and Saturday Oct. 12th and 13th, at Louisa. The officers of the association have just decided upon these dates.

The Business Men's Club, of Louisa, has appointed a committee to co-operate with the officers of the Fair in securing an attractive list of premiums. Work on the features has already begun and the prospects for success are better than ever before.

Farmers and others should prepare to offer whatever they may have that is worthy of exhibit. The list will be very much the same as heretofore, but it is the belief of those in charge of the details that the premiums will be more valuable than ever before offered.

All entries must be made on the first day, and the earlier the better it will be for all concerned.

Let everybody join heartily in this enterprise and help to make it a big success. It is probable that the State department will send one or more speakers here. There should be talks from our own farmers on the results of efforts made toward improvement and on other topics for the welfare of the agricultural community.

ORGANIZATION

Of Business Men's Club Completed and Good Work Done.

The Louisa Business Men's Club met Tuesday evening and transacted considerable business.

One of the matters treated was that of securing houses for families desiring to move to Louisa and boarding for students who will come here with the opening of the Kentucky Normal College on next Tuesday.

A committee consisting of Robt. Dixon, D. J. Burchett, Jr., and Augustus Snyder was appointed to assist in arranging these matters. Those having houses or rooms for rent, and those who will take boarders are urged to report to one or all of these gentlemen immediately. Also, those wanting houses, rooms or boarding should send in their names and desires at once.

If all will use the means thus provided it will save much confusion and help greatly toward properly taking care of the people who are coming here because of the school.

Miss Lida Holbrook died at Blaine Wednesday. She was a daughter of the late A. M. Holbrook, and had been in ill health for some time.

An Operation Necessary.

The serious condition of Mrs. John G. Burns and the presence of Dr. Keller in a consultation with her resident physicians has been noted elsewhere. For a day or two she grew better and the first trouble which so alarmed her friends was very materially lessened. On Tuesday it was discovered that a very grave complication threatened to cause serious, probably fatal, results unless it could be successfully combated. Her physicians, Drs. Biggs and Wooten, were fully aware that only an operation could meet the urgent demand for relief, and Dr. Keller was again sent for. He arrived at 2:30 Thursday morning, and after careful examination fully agreed with Mrs. Burns' physicians both as to the nature of the trouble and the necessity for an immediate operation. The trouble was an obstruction in the bowels, and after the proper preparation Dr. Keller, assisted by Drs. Bromley, Biggs and Wooten, performed what is called a laparotomy, opening the abdomen and removing the obstruction. In this instance the obstruction was a band around the intestine, not far from the appendix, and which would have caused death in a very few days probably within a few hours. She came out from the anesthetic very nicely, and while she is very weak from the shock and her already enfeebled condition she has rallied well and her family and friends feel much encouraged. Her patience and fortitude will be material features in helping to an eventual recovery.

PERT PARAGRAPHS

Picked Up At Pike, Paint and Prestonsburg.

Aquila Harmon, of this place, and Miss Anna Sebastian of Maysville county, were united in marriage Wednesday evening, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Harry Auvil, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride is well known in our town, having gone to school here the past two years. She is a most excellent young lady. Mr. Harmon has lived here since a child, and is liked by everyone, and is a most worthy young man.

Judge H. B. Rice has sold his fine farm and residence at Hager Hill, near Paintsville, to Will L. Smith, of East Point. Consideration, $6,500.

Paintsville is becoming more like New York every day. Three circuses within two weeks, and another one coming, is certainly going some. Sun Bros.' Progressive Railroad Shows are the latest one billed to come this way, and the red posters plastered over town are simply making some of the old folks sit up and take notice. The Sun Bros.' circus will exhibit at Paintsville next Monday, August 27. Paintsville surely does remind one of New York. It's so very different.

NICKEL PLATED JOKE.

The longest-winded speaker at the convention on the 22nd was a young Mr. Nickell of Morgan county.—Plaindealer.

With Mrs. Jas. Bromley as chaperone the following young people enjoyed a picnic at the camp ground Wednesday, going up on the morning train and returning on the 3:09 in the afternoon. Misses Shirley Burns, Clara Bromley, Nina Rathbone, Anna Louis Ratcliff, Flora Jones, Laura Crutcher, Grace Remmele, Beulah Preston, Teba and Cora Meek, Messrs. Taylor, Johns, Herbert Sammons, Richard Willson and Ed Spencer.

A merry crowd of boys and girls spent Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Remmele, helping Ernest to celebrate his twelfth birthday. Games, music and delicious refreshments were very much enjoyed.

Sun Brothers and their show arrived on time and gave two performances. The show is a good one—fine specialties, no faking, but everything clean and up-to-now. It came well recommended by the citizens of the up-Sandy towns.

Prof. W. M. Byington is busy at a zoöfren county and may not be able to get to Louisa before next Monday. He reports prospects very bright for a large attendance. He must take care of all who come.

THRILLING

Off the Island of Corsica, August 14, 1906.

Royal Mail Steamship Carpathia. To the Maritime Editor of the News: I assume that a people living along navigable waters of the U. S. and coming into daily contact with the commercial leviathans of the deep, as do those of Louisa, will be interested in all sea-faring matters.

The incidents I am about to relate will probably be published in the United States and be generally regarded as an echo from the tomb of "Baron Munchausen" or "Stubb the Sailor." On August the 9th I was a passenger on the steamship "Carpathia" of the Cunard-Mediterranean service bound from New York to Trieste. About 8:30 o'clock P. M. we were off the coast of Spain opposite Cadiz and about 25 miles from shore. It was a very dark night with a moderate sea running. The passengers were lounging on deck as usual, when the sharp and always startling cry rang out from the bridge, "Man overboard." All was intense excitement in a moment, everyone realizing the almost utter hopelessness of rescuing a man from that black and turbulent world of water. The ship was stopped, a boat lowered and manned and the desperate search begun with all the skill and vigor which distinguish the Cunard Line, but it was in vain. No trace of the would-be suicide for such it proved, could be found and after an hour we proceeded on our way. Investigation showed that the victim was a young Hungarian, a steward in the steerage, and a letter in his coat pocket disclosed intention of deliberate suicide. We reached Gibraltar at 2 following, and a proper certificate of the death of the unfortunate man was duly presented to the proper authorities by our Captain, in accordance with the English law. At one o'clock that day we left Gibraltar and steamed for Genoa. About 4 we overhauled and were just passing the freight steamer "Renfrew" from Liverpool, when she signaled a desire to communicate with us. We stopped and waited until she came within speaking distance when we were informed that at 3:30 o'clock that morning she had picked up a man opposite Cadiz who had fallen overboard from our ship. We sent a boat and in a few minutes the man, whom all believed at the bottom of the sea, was climbing over the rail of the "Carpathia" apparently but little worse for the seven hours battle he had had with the waves the previous night. He was a stalwart young fellow and said by his companions to be the best swimmer in the Adriatic ports where he was known. The Captain of the "Renfrew" said as they were following our pathway and opposite Cadiz about 3:30 the morning before the forward watch heard a voice from the darkness in the water calling for help. They checked their speed, but without stopping, threw a rope to the man in the water and hauled him on board, he having strength enough to cling to the rope as he was drawn up. He said after getting back to our ship that he was tired of life and jumped overboard to end it, but that it seemed impossible for him to drown and finally concluded to try and live, that he then took off all his clothes and swam about without difficulty until rescued.

When he went overboard he was seen by several persons in the steerage and was fully dressed except his coat and hat. When rescued he was entirely nude. The "Renfrew" with the "suicide" on board passed through the straits of Gibraltar while we were at anchor there, but being a much faster ship the "Carpathia" overhauled her, as above stated.

The young man is in confinement on this ship and will be handed over to the civil authorities, charged with attempted suicide and other high crimes and misdemeanors. It would seem to me, however, that he got all that was coming to him. I conclude in the suggestive language of the barber shop, "Next."

Yours,

Lightning struck and set fire to the main building at Union College, in Barboursville, Friday, totally destroying it. The loss will be $10,000, but the building will be replaced at once.

Moorehead, Ky., Aug. 25.—J. H. Frayley, of this city, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the Ninth district. There are now six active candidates for the nomination whose names will be presented to the Maysville convention September 1.

Brinkley, Ky., Aug. 24.—Hindman today completed its electric light plant and the homes and streets of the little mountain village will be lighted with incandescent lights. Hindman is forty miles from any railroad in the heart of the mountain region. The W. C. T. U. school put in the plant.

Maysville, Ky., Aug. 23.—The candidacy of the Hon. E. Leslie Worthington, of this city, for the Democratic nomination for the Appellate Judgeship in the ninth district is announced. Mr. Worthington has served in the Senate, having been elected on the Democratic ticket, Mason-Lewis district, which was normally Republican. He is the legal representative of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad here, and is regarded as a constitutional lawyer of exceptional attainment.

The joint discussions which are to be arranged between Governor Beckham and Senator McCreary will, it is claimed, be lively affairs, and will augment the interest in the senatorial race. It was very apparent from the start that the fight would take a personal turn. Governor Beckham's deft to the Senator was promptly accepted, and now the fur will fly. The Governor has always been a past master at molding catch phrases and is good at repartee. The Senator is slow, cautious and adroit, and while not gifted as an orator is a trained debater, and never loses his wits. Numerous reports are current as to questions which will be asked by one or the other.

Sergeant, Ky., Aug. 24.—From information obtained by those closely in touch with the affairs of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad it is said that it is shortly to extend branches up Long Fork and Beaver Creeks, opening up mammoth veins of coking coal. The line will be 23 miles up Long Creek, while the line up Beaver will be 30 miles.

Fulton, Ky., Aug. 23.—A dastardly attempt at criminal assault was made upon Miss Laura May, a prominent young woman of 2747 Walnut street St. Louis, Mo., on the Illinois Central passenger train No. 5 yesterday afternoon near Pinckneyville, a small town north of this place, by William Page, a negro Pullman sleeper porter, and but for her remarkably game struggle the brute's purpose would have been accomplished.

Miss May, who was en route to Paducah, Ky., where she has relatives, was alone in the Pullman car, when Page entered, and dragging her into the toilet apartment attempted to choke her into insensibility. In her frantic endeavor to escape from the grasp of the black brute, Miss May broke both windows of the apartment and was badly lacerated about the face and arms by the broken glass. She finally succeeded in opening the door and fled into the day coach immediately in front of the Pullman car, the passengers of which, aroused by her outcries, hastened to corner the negro. With the assistance of the incensed train crew he was tied and placed under guard until the train reached Pinckneyville, where he was taken in charge by the officers.

Miss May, who was suffering great ly from the shock and from the many cuts from the broken glass, was removed from the train for medical attention, and is not yet able to leave her bed. Page was hurried to Murphysboro for safe keeping, and is now in jail at that place.

Miss May, it is understood, has already arranged with her attorneys to enter suit against the Pullman Company.

Harrodsburg, Ky., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Stephen Chambers, wife of one of Mercer county's most prominent farmers, committed suicide at her home, near Kirkwood, last night. Mrs. Chambers first attempted to kill herself by shooting, but the pistol ball aimed at her temple went wild. Her husband was attracted by the shot and took the weapon away from her. She then went out to the henhouse, procured a handful of Paris green and swallowed a lot of it. The desperate woman died in great agony last night.

Mrs. Chambers' act was caused by humiliation and worry growing out of a charge she made about a month ago that her brother-in-law, Abraham Lake, had committed a criminal assault upon her. The examining trial of Lake was sensational and he is now under $1,000 bond to answer to the grand jury.

Lake's wife, who was Mrs. Chambers' sister, had been dead only six weeks and Mrs. Chambers was caring for his two little children and looking after his household. She charged that while she was cleaning up his house Lake overpowered her. Feeling ran so high that the presiding judge ordered every man entering the courtroom searched for weapons. Lake denied the assault, but admitted intimacy with his accuser and put the blame upon her. Two weeks later Lake married again. Mrs. Chambers brooded over the affair until her mind was evidently unbalanced.

Found laying by the railroad track in an unconscious condition, with his jaw broken and his head badly beaten, Lewis Runyon, a man about 60 years of age, who resided near Gray, in Mingo county, is believed to have been the victim of foul play.

If reports are true the old man had incurred the illfeeling of parties who live in the neighborhood because he remonstrated with them on their conduct with some women of questionable character about the place. Runyon was taken to the Miner's Hospital at Welch where he died. He is said to have been a harmless man and there is much feeling over the belief that he was the victim of foul play.

Reports comes from Nolan of a serious cutting scrape that occurred there on last Wednesday and as a result a young man is laying at death door, the physicians believing that his wounds will prove fatal.

According to the report Jim Deskins and Tim Webb, two young men, became intoxicated and started out to take the town. They had their own way for a considerable time and had repeatedly defied any one to interfere with them. Webb was the possessor of a revolver of rather large calibre and none of the citizens of the little town were willing to take chances with him.

The two young men got astride a mule and rode about the town repeatedly firing the pistol. Failing to get trouble out of some citizens it seems they concluded to do a little scrapping among themselves. They got into a dispute over some trivial matter and were soon exchanging blows. They were about evenly matched and Webb fearing that Deskins was going to come out the winner pulled his knife and began stabbing Deskins. He succeeded in inflicting a wound that will no doubt result in the death of Deskins. The knife entered the left side near the heart and it is the opinion of the attending physician that the young man cannot recover.

It is said that it was with difficulty that Webb was prevented from shooting Deskins and made several attempts to get his revolver out of his saddle bags which were on his mule. After the cutting he jumped into the saddle and flourishing his revolver, stood off the crowd and made good his escape to Kentucky. It is said that he lives on John's creek and bears the reputation of being a rather bad character.

Whipping is no longer a novelty in the punishment of bad boys by order of Police Courts, but spanking for naughty girls is an innovation introduced at Maysville. The public Ledger gives the following account of it:

Lizzie Moore, Fanny Washington and Kate Bower, a trio of colored girls, whose ages range from fifteen to seventeen years, were arrested Friday night for general misconduct.

One of their favorite amusements was butting into and jostling ladies off the sidewalks and street crossings.

In meeting out punishment to the culprits, Judge Whitaker pursued a more effective and salutary way than the old method of sending them to jail.

He sent for the mothers of the wayward girls, and after explaining the nature of the offense and the penalty attached thereto, he gave them the choice of spanking their daughters in the presence of an officer, whose duty it was to see that it was well done; otherwise the severest penalty of the law would be inflicted.

They agreed to do the spanking. The mothers and offenders retired to a room in the rear of the Police Court room and each one in turn was placed across a table and an improvised paddle made from a salt barrel stave was wielded by the parent in a manner that left a deep impression on both mind and body that will remain for several days to come. Though severe, it is quite likely that the warm application will have a beneficial effect.

They now take their meals standing.

REUNION

Of Confederate Soldiers at Wayne on Sept. 14-15.

There are many old Confederates, their wives, widows and children in this part of Kentucky and in West Virginia adjacent, who will read with pleasure the following notice and programme. No Camp has ever been organized in Wayne county, W. Va., and Wayne is about the center for a large number of ex-Confederates.

Col. M. J. Ferguson, an honored citizen of this town at the time of his death, raised and was the Col. of the 16th Regiment, Va. Cavalry.

A few more years and there will be none of the old soldiers to meet, and their common memories and communications, as tried brave sons of the South, makes it meet that they should a few more times in congregated numbers greet each other and revive the memories of the past. They are all loyal citizens, and their gathering betokens no ill to our common country.

There is no doubt that, weather permitting, the Reunion will be largely attended, and that the occasion will be an interesting one. It is understood that a Camp will be formed and that the Reunion will hereafter be held regularly. It is well, for ere long it will be said of these veterans that—

"The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldier's last tattoo.
No more on life's parade shall meet
The brave and chosen few."

"On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread,
And Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead."

PROGRAMME.

Committee on Arrangements, Roll-call and Enrollment—Walter Ausburn, Pearly S. Walker, Jeff Ferguson, Marion Booth, John Lambert, B. J. Pritchard and Dr. Geo. Burgess.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "A quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Eczema and Piles. 25c at A. M. Hughes, Druggist.

To All Democratic Voters.

If there ever was a time in the history of the Democratic party for the manifestation of loyalty and patriotism on the part of its members, it is right now.

If we are to win a victory and elect a President two years hence, we must first elect a House of Representatives this fall. A Democratic House can and will investigate every department of the Government. With all of them honeycombed by "graft," the edges of which only have been touched by recent exposure and prosecutions, there will be a revelation of rottenness that will astound the country, and create a demand for a Democratic administration to clean the Government workshop.

To win the House we need money to defray legitimate expenses and to defray legitimate expenses and get out our vote. We have no protected monopolies from which to draw to fill our coffers, as they do those of the Republican party. We must, therefore, appeal to loyal Democrats for contributions.

Will you send us $1.00 at once, and in return for this we will send you copies of our campaign literature issued by the Committee. You will have the thanks of the entire Democratic party for your favorable response to our request.

Fooled the Children.

There was a smile on the face of the druggist as a robust little fellow, though looking a bit peaked, trudged into the store, and laying a dime on the soda fountain counter, took a note from his pocket. "Want soda water," said the boy. The druggist glanced only casually at the note, as though he knew its contents, and then drew a glass of sarsaparilla soda. This he took out of sight into another room before giving it to the child. "It's a nice mamma to buy you soda water, isn't it, Charles?" asked the druggist. "Yes, sir," answered Charles, as he eagerly emptied the glass. "Now, how was that for taking a dose of castor oil?" asked the druggist, as he turned to another customer. "We often give it to children that way."

Learned Lesson Well.

O. W. Nickerson and J. S. Baker were residents of Harwich, Mass. Capt. Nickerson, as he was called, was a man of means and very shrewd. Joe was less fortunate. One day the captain took Joe into a room, closed the doors and said: "Now, Joe, for $25 I will tell you the secret of getting rich. Be saving, of course, and when you make a bargain with anyone be sure that no one hears you, and then if you get the worst of it or want to back out you can. Now hand me the $25."

Joe thought a second and then said: "Did anyone hear us make this bargain, captain?"

"Not a soul," replied the captain. "Well, then," Joe said, "I guess I'll begin on you."

Not All in the Air.

The incident below—which Daniel Coit Gilman, LL. D., late president of Johns Hopkins university, has incorporated in his recently published sheaf of remembrances, "The Launching of a University and Other Papers"—could not happen at the present time, when each new institution of learning has its millionaire sponsor. It belongs to the pioneer period of education, when starting a college meant breaking the wilderness.

A gentleman, President Gilman says, once introduced himself to Dr. Day, then president of Yale, as chancellor of a western state university. "How large a faculty have you?" President Day inquired, with genuine interest.

"Not any," answered the western gentleman.

"Have you any library or buildings?"

"Not yet."

"Any endowment?"

"None."

"What have you, then?" persisted President Day.

The visitor's countenance brightened. "We have a very good charter," he said.—Youth's Companion.

CLAIMED EVERYTHING IN SIGHT

Major Was Long on Patriotism but Short on Geology.

The following story of the early days was told by the Hon. T. B. Wilgus. He said:

"In the early days of Leadville there was a singular character living by the name of Maj. Martin McGinnis. The major was the important man of the camp; and when any distinguished parties came to the city they were received by Maj. Martin McGinnis and presented with the freedom of the camp on a gold plate. The French government sent three mining engineers over to examine and report upon the mineral deposits of this locality. They were received by Maj. Martin McGinnis, who put them in carriages and took them around the camp. As they were going up California gulch the Frenchmen suddenly jumped out of the carriage and commenced to hammer and chisel upon a large black bowlder that lay alongside the road. The major watched them gesticulating to one another, and he finally said to the interpreter, 'What do they mean? What are they talking about?' The interpreter said: 'They say that rock don't belong here.' The major said, 'The hell it don't. You say to those foreigners that I won't stand for them coming over here and running down our country. Tell them that they can find anything, anywhere in Colorado.'

"The Frenchmen were right, however, for this black rock was a meteor and had fallen from the skies."—Leadville (Colo.) Herald Democrat.

WIFEY KNEW A THING OR TWO.

Why Hubby's Clever Scheme of Postals Came to Naught.

Smith's wife had gone to the mountains, so he prepared a stack of postals, gave them to his stenographer with instructions to mail one every day, and went to Saratoga with a few friends.

Mrs. Smith got postal No. 1. "Working away at business this hot weather. Miserable without you." "Poor man," she murmured, "he must be lonely."

Next day postal No. 2. "Home seems a desert. Miss you terribly." "Poor John," said Mrs. Smith, "it's a shame for me to be here enjoying myself while he slaves away in loneliness."

Postal No. 3 came the next morning. "Can hardly live without you. Life a blank."

Mrs. Smith packed her trunks and went home.

There was trouble. This year Smith thought he'd be wise. The first postal he left for mailing to his absent wife was: "Getting along splendidly. Having a great time."

"Humph!" said Mrs. Smith. Next postal: "Best time of my life. Stay as long as you like and don't bother about me. I'm all right."

This time Mrs. Smith started home the second time.

When she arrived there was trouble again.—N. Y. American.

Peculiarity of Rivers.

Great rivers which flow from north to south, like the Mississippi, or from south to north, in the southern hemisphere, may empty into seas the surface of which is much farther from the center of the earth than the points at which the rivers rise. In that sense the Mississippi flows uphill, and the elevation which its waters climb is measured in miles, not in feet. The explanation is, of course, that the whirling of the earth on its axis makes its motion much greater at the equator than nearer the poles, and the waters of the oceans are piled up toward the equator, just as water on a grindstone tends to fly off the rim when it revolves rapidly.

Britain Wants Dust of King.

Englishmen are now talking about "repatriating" the dust of Richard Lionheart, which has been lying these many centuries in the abbey of Fontevault, near Saumur, in the valley of the Loire, France. Negotiations to this effect are now pending between Sir Francis Bertie, British ambassador at Paris, and the French government, and it is expected that Britain's wishes will be complied with. As long ago as 1869 Lord Derby begged Napoleon III. to permit the removal of the remains to England, but the negotiations were interrupted by the Franco-German war.

Men's Fashion Folly.

"Bugles were ridiculous," said an antiquary. "Do you remember the bustle of 1885? It shot straight out from the waist, a broad seat on which, honestly, an adult could have sat. Yes, bustles were ridiculous, but no more so than the tournures of Francis II. The tournures were worn by men. They were bustles—front instead of rear ones. Yes, in the time of Francis II. portliness was considered stately and men tied on tournures or false stomachs in order to achieve an air of dignity."

Truck Farming That Pays.

Fourteen thousand dollars net profit on the planting of 35 acres of land is an achievement not to be despised. The crop was potatoes. The average production per acre was a few barrels more than 100. They sold for $5 per barrel, or a total of $17,500. They cost a dollar a barrel to put on the market, or $3,500, leaving a net profit of $14,000. That is the record made by a Charlestonian, in Colleton county, who is planting truck on lands formerly devoted to rice culture.—Charleston Post.

OBITUARY.

The death angel visited the home of Luther Spencer the 16th and took from him his darling wife. She was 25 years, 3 months and 16 days old. She leaves a husband, and babe, one sister, three brothers and a host of friends to mourn.

Luther do not weep for Fannie, but get ready to meet her where there will be no more good byes. In the death of this precious one the home has lost a sparkling jewel, but she has gone to shine with far more radiant splendor upon the golden shore of the new Jerusalem, which God has prepared for them that love him.

Luther, do not grieve for Fannie, but get ready to meet her and at the great resurrection day you shall hear the Master say, "well done thou good and faithful servant," here is your darling wife I have kept so long for you.

We will miss her, but our loss is but eternal gain. She has gone from us but we thank God we know where to find her. She met death bravely and cheerfully—had no regrets—could truly say with the apostle Paul, "I have fought a good fight, I have kept the faith and am ready to go to meet with Jesus my Redeemer and my loved ones who have gone on before. She is now with her darling little babe. God bless the bereaved husband and friends. She was laid to rest in the Spencer graveyard. Her funeral was preached by Rev. Talbert.

WAS WASTING AWAY.

"I had been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years," writes Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo. "I lost flesh and never felt well, and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well." During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. Sold by Louisa Drug Company.

FRIDAY, August 31, 1906.

Negro troops do not seem to be wanted anywhere in the United States and an effort probably will be made in the next Congress to repeal the law which provides for the enlistment of negroes. Even the Filipinos object to colored soldiers.

Twenty-eight persons were killed and twenty-four wounded as the result of an attempt to assassinate Premier Stolpin while he was holding a public reception at his country home. His fifteen-year-old daughter is among the dead. Two of the four conspirators were blown to atoms. It is thought that the bomb was accidentally dropped else more persons would have been killed. The Premier was slightly wounded and is completely prostrated over the affair.

Hon. Clarence Ousley, editor of the Fort Worth Record and one of the most thorough students of the race question in the South, has written an open letter to President Roosevelt on the projected abandonment of Fort Brown because the white people refused to receive the negro troops on terms of social equality in which he reviews the incidents and concludes:

"While not so designed its effect is to put hellish lust in the minds of the millions of negro brutes who are no more comparable to the intelligent negro you have met than the best of the race today is comparable to the savages of Africa.

"These negroes of whom I speak and whom you do not know constitute the vast majority of the 9,000,000 living in our back yards and they are absolutely incapable of reason. Social equality to their minds means the unspeakable crime. For every aspiring and decent negro who sees the door of hope, which you vainly imagine you are holding open to the race, ten thousand negroes see only the embrace of a white virgin. Cut off our rations, drive our men out of the house of their fathers as an atonement for slavery, but don't make our wives and daughters the victims of a false philosophy and a partisan regime.

"You have proved your greatness in many achievements, and I like to think you are honest. But you are not infallible and you cannot perform miracles."

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

SOCIETY OF BACHELORS

UNIQUE ILLINOIS ORGANIZATION
HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC.

Weddings Often Result from Reunions
—History of the Odd Organization Which Is Fourteen Years Old.

Nokomis, Ill.—The famous bachelors' picnic was held the other day at this place, the home of the Illinois Bachelors' association. Nokomis claims no other distinction than that of being the birthplace of such a body and the devotees of the single life were feasted and entertained from sunrise until dark.

The bachelor's state is regarded in this community as the ideal life. Bachelors parade the principles of their cult to the world from the mecca of single blessedness. Hundreds came from all surrounding places within a radius of 50 miles.

Unmarried persons of both sexes attended by companies and battalions to aid in the beatification of bachelorhood. A feature of the entertainment was a wedding ceremony performed before the assembly of skeptical celibates.

The history of the association dates back to Aug. 10, 1892, when a few forlorn and hopeless bachelors of Nokomis invited their fellow unfortunates to unite with them in a grand picnic, at which time new schemes for more successful attacks on the rapidly increasing ranks of unmarried young ladies were given out to the faithful.

Many marriages resulted in this reunion, and even the president of the order fell a victim to the charms of a fair enchantress.

The ranks became so depleted from this meeting that before another could be held it became necessary to reorganize the society, which was done. The reunions, held on Aug. 10, 1904, and on Aug. 16, 1905, were most successful.

Fully 20,000 people were in attendance at each of the gatherings, and unique programmes portraying the existence of a bachelor were successfully carried out.

On these occasions, as on previous ones, every member wore a yellow badge upon which was inscribed the motto of the order, "None that I love more than myself."

At the last reunion the prize of the oldest bachelor girl was awarded to a giddy young woman of 92 summers, who, in spite of her advanced age, failed to exhibit any signs of being afraid that she would lose out in the contest for a bachelor's heart and a happy home.

After the last two reunions an epidemic of weddings broke out. A matrimonial wave seemed to sweep through the ranks of the society and claimed for its victims many of its faithful officers, who tendered their resignations and became bachelors.

A number of bachelor girl clubs in central Illinois are the outgrowth of the bachelors' reunions. Prominent among them is the Hillsboro Bachelor Girls' club, of Hillsboro, which dates its organization back several years.

It is composed of wealthy, handsome, and talented young women of Hillsboro, and all are members of prominent families in Montgomery county. Quite a friendship exists between the two associations, and several weddings between its members have resulted.

The present officers of the association are C. P. Hamlin, president; G. D. Scott, first vice president; William C. Adden, second vice president; Fred W. Ernst, secretary, and George Helderbrandt, treasurer.

USES A MILLION PENCILS.

Uncle Sam's Yearly Stationery Bill Shows Huge Sum of Trifles.

Washington.—The enormous quantities of supplies used by clerks in the nine executive departments here is forcibly illustrated by figures for the fiscal year ended June 30. It is shown that for the 12 months comprising the last fiscal year there were 1,117,442 lead pencils used. If manufactured uncut these would make a mammoth pencil 142 miles and 13 rods long. Placed side by side they would make a board walk 28 inches wide and seven miles long. According to the rules, each clerk is allowed one pencil every eight days.

The army of clerks used 68,676,288 sheets of paper, cut letter size, every year. These sheets placed side by side would cover a plot of 2,346 acres and have some left over.

The government last year purchased and distributed 4,371,840 pen points, buying more than 250,000 penholders in which to utilize them.

The clerks used 8,356 gallons of paste.

There were issued to the clerks 76,080 pints of black ink and 5,766 pints of red ink.

The government used 6,747 pounds of pins, which, according to count, run 24,752 to the pound. This makes an aggregate of 167,001,724 pins.

Rubber bands of all sizes were used to the number of 20,836,800.

WOMEN GRADUATES STAY SINGLE

Only 16 Per Cent. of Those from Chicago University Have Found Mates.

Chicago.—Statistics recently issued by Secretary Arthur E. Bestor of the Alumni association of the University of Chicago show that of the 1,060 women graduates of the university since its reestablishment in 1893 only 171, or about 16 per cent., have married. It is conceded that the 214 girls graduated in the classes of the last two years should have more time, but the same consideration cannot be given to those who were graduated before, and the officials have no satisfactory explanation to give for their lack of interest in matrimony.

This failure of the coeds to wed is not confined to any one class. In fact, of the nine women who graduated in 1894, the year following the world's fair, when all the world was attracted to Chicago, not one has married.

The officers of the university deny that there is anything in the suggestion that the restrictions at the university against college courting and engagements between students has anything to do with this showing, nor do they believe that the average age of the women graduates has had any effect, although the statistics show that the average age of the women who have graduated has been very close to 28, while the men have been younger.

The students figure out that the faculty regulations have done more than anything else to turn the girls' heads to other matters than matrimony. They are almost unanimous in declaring that the university authorities have placed such restrictions on college courting that younger girl students go elsewhere to college. They cite the large number of engagements at Northwestern university as proof of this claim. They also declare that Northwestern attracts for this reason girls more inclined to domestic life.

TURN CELLAR INTO A HIVE.

Woman Discovers a Great Deposit of Honey in Her Home.

San Francisco.—An immense store of honey has been discovered between the beams and joists of the residence of Mrs. J. U. Nazry, on Schrader street. It was evidently the accumulation of years, for the honey formed a solid mass six inches thick, two feet wide and 14 feet high, extending from the basement to the beams which support the first story, and completely filling a section of the wall.

The bees entered their storehouse through a knothole in a board. It was this that first attracted Mrs. Nazry's attention. With the aid of a gardener she investigated.

Despite veils and gloves, both were severely stung by the myriads of bees, which resented the intrusion.

There are many gardens in the neighborhood in which Mrs. Nazry resides, and it was from the flowers in these and in the adjacent park that the bees secured the substance. Unable to crowd any more into the space which they had appropriated, however, they no longer worked, but contented themselves with living upon what they had already stored. Now, however, they will have to start anew.

RABIES FROM OLD CAT BITE

Kansas Farmer Becomes a Raving Maniac While at Work in Field.

Topeka, Kan.—Seth Day, a farmer, living southwest of Topeka, was bitten by a cat 16 years ago and he is now raving in a padded cell in the Shawnee county jail. Every symptom points to hydrophobia.

A few days after having been bitten he was suffering from hydrophobia. He was taken to Kansas City, where he had a madstone applied and the treatment relieved him. The attending physician told him that the attack might return at any time.

Last Friday was an exceedingly hot day, and while working in a hay field Day was suddenly stricken. He dropped the pitchfork and started running to a small creek near the field. The hands working with him followed and found him in the water, raving and throwing water about him. He kept this up until completely exhausted, when his sons took him home. He was brought to Topeka today and locked in a cell. He is continually trying to break down the walls of the cage.

He refused to eat or drink, and spent the day talking incoherently and trying to tear down the building.

RAILWAY WITH 728 BRIDGES.

New Austrian Line a Wonder in the Engineering World.

Vienna.—Archduke Franz Ferdinand has opened the new Wocheiner railway from Assling to Trieste, which is one of the most remarkable engineering feats in the world.

It is the first section in a new route through the Alps by which southern Germany will be connected directly with Trieste and traverses a beautiful but exceedingly difficult mountain country, which has necessitated the excavation of 47 tunnels and the building of 679 small and 49 large bridges.

The bridge on the Isonzo river is the largest stone arched railway bridge in the world. Its span is more than 270 feet.

HORSE HAS PROPERTY

OWNS FINE GRASS PLOT IN FASHIONABLE NEIGHBORHOOD.

Equine Holds Interest in Valuable New York Real Estate Where He Can Graze at Will and Live Life of Ease.

New York.—My horse Dick I give and bequeath to my sisters, Agnes and Elizabeth Savage. It is my wish that they care for the horse as long as he lives.

As the result of the above provision contained in the will of George Savage, a plumber of Jersey City, who died on Sept. 17, 1889, Dick, a horse 33 years old, is living a life of ease and luxury. He is a property owner and holds a half interest in real estate.

Dick came into the possession of his master as a colt back in the '70s and for years he made daily tours of Jersey City in the shafts of a plumber's wagon. Mr. Savage was deeply attached to the animal, which developed unusual intelligence at an early age. He bought five lots at Baldwin avenue and Clifton place as Dick's exclusive pasturage. As the years rolled by he disposed of three of the lots, but he reserved two for the horse's especial benefit.

"He's a good old boy," the plumber would often say, "and I don't propose that he shall ever want for a small portion of this earth where he can graze at will."

After the plumber's death his sisters placed a wire fence around Dick's lots and saw to it that every morning excepting in the winter he was led from his stable in the rear of their home at 518 Mercer street to his pasture.

Fine homes were built around the lots, which are within a stone's throw of the city hospital and the zealous eyes of many real estate speculators were turned to Dick's exclusive territory, but all overtures for the sale of the lots were turned down by the Misses Savage and the old horse grazes in supreme contentment. A few days ago the sisters were offered a good price for the lots, but they said that the land will not be in the market as long as Dick lives.

Dick raps with his forehoofs against the side of his stall every morning at six o'clock as a signal that he is ready for his breakfast. As soon as he gets it one of the sisters, Miss Elizabeth Savage, grooms him and washes him down with oil of citronella to keep the mosquitoes away.

Edna Brown, 13 years old, has become so attached to the old horse as a neighbor that she goes around every morning to see him safe in his lots and in the evening leads him back to his stall.

ALCOHOL LAW NOT ORIGINAL.

American Consuls Report on Denaturing Process Abroad.

Washington.—In view of the recent law of congress permitting the use of alcohol in the arts and industries free of tax the bureau of manufacturers of the department of commerce and labor has collated a number of reports of United States consulates on the denaturing processes, from which it appears that a similar law is in operation in Italy, France, Germany, Cuba, Belgium and other countries. Each of the countries named has its own particular process of denaturation.

Of particular interest is the report of Consul General Robert P. Skinner, of Marsellies, who says that the last word in regard to the industrial uses of alcohol has not yet been said nor does he anticipate that American expectations in regard to the general practicability of this fuel as a motive force are going to be at once realized. So imperfect does the French government regard the methods now in use for rendering alcohol unfit for consumption or of utilizing it as an illuminant that prizes have been offered to the person offering the most advantageous ideas on the subject. Nevertheless, the reports in the aggregate recognize the possibilities of denatured alcohol based on the trials already given it abroad.

BRITISH GUNNERS DEAD CHOTS

Remarkable Scoring Marks Firing Exercises of Mediterranean Fleet.

London.—Some remarkable scoring has been made in this year's firing exercises in the Mediterranean fleet. The destroyer Bruizer with its six-pound guns made 46 hits out of 64 rounds, and with its 12-pound guns six hits out of ten rounds. The average for six-pound guns is 10.36 hits per gun, which constitutes a record for this class of gun.

The Bruizer's scores are better than those made by the destroyer Dragon which recently was complimented by Vice Admiral Lord Charles Beresford on its performance.

The cruiser Barham, in a heavy gun test, made 42 hits out of 58 rounds, the best gun's scores being 11 rounds and 11 hits from a 4.7-inch gun. The next best score was ten rounds and ten hits.

Adopts a Strong Set of Resolutions.

At a meeting of the Mutual Protection Society held at Mt. Zion church Aug. 16th, 1906, the following declaration and resolutions were offered and ordered to be given to the Big Sandy News with the request that all newspapers in the State would copy.

To the officers and brothers of the Mutual Protection Society:

On the 29th day of June 1906 a serious trouble occurred at Mt. Zion church, Lawrence county, Ky., during the session of a District Sunday School Convention, resulting in the death of the young daughter of John S. Ross, one of Lawrence county's best citizens and a member of our order, and also in the wounding of a young man. The immediate cause of this awful tragedy may be summed up in a few words.

Unscrupulous parties procured a lot of whiskey a few days before the convention met, and on the day of the meeting the whiskey was brought upon the grounds, and many citizens believe that it was illegally sold, resulting in a large number of persons getting intoxicated.

Among these persons were two factions, who had been having some trouble before, and it seems they had met that day to settle the old feud. Many of them were armed with pistols, which they began discharging in the early part of the day. After dinner a bloody conflict came up resulting as above stated.

For years past the people of this vicinity have been disturbed at these public meetings by a class of persons who attend all public meetings well armed and drunk. The result is that many persons have been intimidated, and actually afraid to attend night meetings of all kinds. Therefore the time has come in the history of our county that the Mutual Protection Society must raise up in its might and devise the means to suppress these public crimes, or raise the white flag and surrender every moral institution of our country, our wives, children, sisters and mothers to those that disregard the law.

Therefore be it resolved First:

That we believe every law abiding citizen who has heretofore been an honorable member of the Mutual Protection Society, but has dropped out for no greater cause than failing to pay his dues, should return to the fold and thereby show by their acts that lawful protection of the free institutions guaranteed to all under the State and U. S. Constitution, and the stronger protection of the home and family are to be regarded much higher than the small annual fees paid to their lodge.

Resolved 2nd:

That we believe it the duty of all members to our order to use all honorable means to induce the law abiding citizens to become members of our order.

Resolved 3rd:

That we believe that outside of the city and town incorporations there is not sufficient peace officers to keep the peace. Often times hundreds of people assemble with no peace officer present, and should a serious trouble come up, as it did at Mt. Zion, there is no officer to command the peace. Very few citizens however brave are willing to rush into danger and make arrests without authority, but hundreds of brave men stand ready to aid the officer of the law in keeping the peace.

Resolved 4th:

That there is no legal way of increasing peace officers except to appoint more deputy sheriffs. Therefore we most earnestly recommend by the consent and advice of the high sheriffs of the counties, that there be at least one sober, discreet, competent person in each voting precinct outside of city and town incorporations be sworn in as deputy sheriff for the purpose of keeping the peace and there could be no objection to the sheriff of the county assigning as many extra deputies as he might need as collectors or other business when necessary.

Resolved 5th:

That we greatly deplore the sad affair at Mt. Zion church. It has been a great calamity to our neighbors, it has brought sadness to many hearts and it has greatly disturbed business relations among the people. Valuable time has and will be spent in attending courts. Large sum of money that was earned by toil and sweat will be spent in the courts, and many persons who were good friends will be enemies for all time to come.

Resolved 6th:

That we offer our deepest sympathy to our brother John S. Ross and family, whose grief is almost unbearable on the account of the tragic death of the little daughter.

We the Committee recommend the adoption of the foregoing resolutions and publication of the same.

MISJUDGMENT COST HIM DRINK.

Professional Beggar Found Two Could Play "Dummy" Act.

A professional beggar, plying his trade on John Stevenson's dock, between the visits of his arch-enemy, the policeman, whose beat lies along the water front, made a misjudgment of human nature that cost him the price of a drink.

He picked out a prosperous-looking individual on whom he thought his hard-luck story would have the desired effect. His specialty was "dumbness," he gurgled, in his frantic effort to tell how hard up he was for a little coin. Words formed on his lips, but the only sound that came was a noisy Kentucky breath. He shook his head from side to side in self-pity. To add an extra heart throb the beggar made his fingers spell out his troubles at lightning speed.

Then light seemed to break in upon the subject, and he opened fire on the beggar with a return volley of finger twitching. With a disgusted look the mendicant said:

"He's a real dummy; I guess I got it bad."

"I guess you did," said the "real dummy," in a very audible voice. "I can't talk on my hands any better than you can, but they come in handy once in a while in finding out if a 'dummy' is really dumb."—Detroit News.

CONFECTIONS SOUR HOTEL MEN

Swiss Landlords Threaten to Boycott Firms in Advertising War.

During the last year or so the principal points of interest of the Bernese Oberland have been the scene of a war of advertisements between the principal makers of Swiss chocolate, says the Paris edition of the New York Herald. Big metal signs are nailed on the facades of the most interesting old chalets, and the very rocks are made to proclaim of rival confections.

This week the interests of Inter-laken have taken decisive steps that have brought about most satisfactory results. The association of hotel-keepers of the region has notified a general boycott against any chocolate maker who does not proceed to the immediate removal of his signs from certain prominent points. The chocolate makers have taken fright and are now busily engaged in removing their signs.

The power of the boycott has been pretty thoroughly instilled into the Swiss mind by the successful tactics of the united automobile clubs of the world, which have forced the recent opening of the Brunig pass.

Doted on Him.

The cook was a conversational soul and she confided to her new mistress, on the second day of her reign, that she certainly did love art and literature. Now, the mistress' master was a critic of renown; that is, in the winter. In the summer he was a seeker after amusement, so when he heard of the cook's confession he made a bee line for the kitchen porch, where Mary sat peeling potatoes. "Mary, I hear that you love art and literature," was his greeting. "Oh, don't I just!" and Mary threw him a soulful glance. "Then what do you think of Ibsen?" Wicked little devils were dancing a can-can in the master's eyes. "Ibsen?" Mary became thoughtful. "Now, I don't believe I know him." "Oh, you must, Mary. Ibsen; now think." Mary's hands flew up in surprise at her own stupidity. "Ibsen, of course, the gentleman what draws the Ibsen girls. Well, I guess I do know him; and I love him, Mr. Brown, simply love him."

Unsympathetic Monkeys.

"Monkeys make poor nurses," said a zoo keeper. "When they live near a stream of water and one of the colony becomes sick they invariably toss him overboard. They don't want him around, his sighs and groans annoy them so. Here in captivity I have to remove at once a sick monkey from his comrades' reach. Otherwise they would soon kill him. When they can, well monkeys take a strange joy in tormenting an invalid. They bite the end of his tail, they drag him about, they pinch him. Finally, when he dies, as many as can find room sit on his body, close together, very solemn, as though engaged in some religious rite."

Insisted on Being "Boss."

A new "Mark Twain" story is going the rounds. The humorist takes long rides in the country in his auto, and one day the mud was so deep that the machine stuck in it. On a railroad near by an Irishman was seen bossing a gang of Italians. "I called to him," said Mark, "and he brought the whole bunch over to lift the machine out. We clashed right away. The Irishman insisted on bossing the job and I wouldn't stand for it. 'All right,' said the Irishman, and he took his men back to the railroad. There was nothing for me to do but give in. I sat in the car for about an hour and then called for the Irishman to come back. 'Am I to be boss?' he asked. 'You are,' I said. And he was."

Device to Cool a Sick Room.

I would like to suggest through your paper to the thousands who are obliged to remain in town—especially those caring for the sick—my plan for cooling the sick room. I place a pad made of a folded piece of old blanket on the stone ledge of the window (which the sun keeps very hot) and keep it wet all day. The rapid evaporation keeps the stone perfectly cold and the air passing over it is perceptibly cooled and gives much relief to the invalid.—N. Y. Times.

FIRST AUTOMOBILE, NOW ON EXHIBITION IN PARIS

Paris.—What is undoubtedly the first automobile, constructed in 1770, was recently placed on exhibition in a museum here and has attracted a great deal of attention. It was planned and built by C. J. Cugnot, who was evidently more than a century in advance of his time, and had it not been for the French revolution, it may be that Cugnot's name would occupy the place in history that is held by George Stephenson, inventor of the locomotive. The original automobile consisted of a wooden chassis, or body, on three wheels. The boiler, a kettle-like contrivance, was in front and the single fore wheel was driven by two cylinders. The steering apparatus was much like that of the present day and the machine was undoubtedly equipped with nonskidding tires.

LOG HOTEL IS FAMOUS

REMARKABLE RANCH HOUSE IN WILDS OF WYOMING.

Has Finer Cut Glass, China and Silver Than Any Other House in State—Hostess Is Refined and Educated.

Lander, Wyo.—A little one-story, six-room log ranch house in Wyoming, with sage brush land stretching away from it in all directions and with only a lumbering mountain stage coach drawn by four horses connecting it with the outside world, has in it more and finer cut glass, china and silver than any other house, public or private, in this state.

Arapahoe boasts not near fifty souls all told. But the traveler going by stage from Lander to Shoshone will find its ranch house an uncommonly good one at which to stay overnight, for Mrs. Becker, its gracious hostess, does not spend all her money on ornaments for her table. She always makes enough to pay the salaries of two first-class Chinese cooks and to supply her table with delicacies.

Many ranch houses look neither more nor less inviting from the outside than does this one. Dirt, poor food, cracked dishes, wretched service and insufferably bad beds compose the accommodations. The traveler is agreeably surprised, then, when he finds the wealth of cut glass, china and silverware which graces Mrs. Becker's table, excellent service, every delicacy that a city market affords, cleanliness everywhere, easy chairs and couches, beds fresh and comfortable and an atmosphere of refinement. Mrs. Becker's cut glass, china and silverware are the pride and the delight of Arapahoe and all of the countryside round about it. Even the Indians who have got a glimpse of them regard them with a sort of proprietary interest. Not long ago Mrs. Becker sent an order to New York for $1,000 worth of cut glass and that $1,000 worth is not all she has. Besides her valuable collection of cut glass, china and silverware Mrs. Becker has many hundred dollars' worth of Navajo blankets and Indian curios. She made an army officer's wife a gift of five or six hundred dollars' worth of blankets and curios recently and thought nothing of it. She is a western woman and does things in a western way.

Not long ago Mrs. Becker gave a party at her ranch house to which she invited some of the best and best known folk in Lander and army officers and their wives from Fort Washakie. It was a unique society function. Each of the numerous guests went home from it with a costly gift from the hostess. One young lady was given a saddle, another a beautiful and costly souvenir spoon with an elk's tooth set in the handle and the others received gifts equally valuable. This remarkable woman, who has made a snug fortune out of a little ranch house in the wilds of Wyoming, is educated, refined and accomplished and there is not a more gracious hostess in the state than she. This keeper of a ranch house has gowns that would attract attention in any large city.

So wide has become the fame of Mrs. Becker's ranch house and so great its popularity that a handsome addition is being built.

ROW OVER YOUNG LADIES.

Over 150,000 Bogus Votes Cast in Cheyenne (Wyo.) Contest.

Cheyenne, Wyo.—The merchants' most popular young lady "contest," which has been on here for several months, closed the other day at noon, but the award of a beautiful $100 piano has not been made. The merchants are at a loss how to decide the matter, as over 150,000 bogus votes were cast. These bogus votes, it is claimed, were turned in by many of the contestants, showing that the fraud was committed by the persons issuing the tickets and not by the contestants.

Jennie Connolly, Ruth Heenan and Katherine McCabe are the leaders in the contest. Miss Heenan and Katherine McCabe got the largest vote, Miss Connolly second, and Miss McCabe third.

If the merchants decide to count all votes Miss Heenan will get the prize, and even if the fraudulent votes are thrown out she will still be in the lead, but the merchants may decide "no contest," and no one will get the piano.

If this is done all the contestants will be satisfied in a measure, but the merchants will come in for considerable criticism. If the piano is awarded to one of the three leaders, the others say they will bring suit against the merchants.

Out of the general row will grow a movement against such contestants in future, and the legislature will be asked to pass a law prohibiting them. It is believed that the contests can be prohibited under the anti-gambling laws.

DESERT CORN FOR MELONS.

More Money Made from Juicy Fruit, Say Oklahoma Farmers.

Lawton, Ok.—The greatest watermelon shipping station of the southwest is Cement, Ok., a small town on the Frisco railroad, 30 miles east of Lawton. The shipping of this season's crop began two weeks ago and to date 120 cars have been shipped to Kansas City, St. Louis and Denver. Before the season closes more than 500 cars will have been shipped. In a radius of a few miles of Cement there are 700 acres planted in melons this year. The average production to the acre is 500 melons, or about half a car load.

The melons placed on the track at Cement bring the producers an average of $50 per acre. At this rate there will be shipped from that point this year 350,000 melons that will place in the pockets of the producers $35,000. Recently there was a scarcity of cars and during the few days intervening between the last shipment and the arrival of more cars 20,000 melons, or 20 car loads, were piled along the track on the ground. No such a sight was ever before seen in the southwest country. No train of 20 cars, containing watermelons alone, was ever before pulled out of Oklahoma. The Alabama sweet variety has been adopted by the melon farmers. This is a long, striped melon of yellow and lead colors.

The production this year will be double that of last year and the acreage is in the same ratio. The quality of melon is also better and the demand has been greater.

E. C. Lutes, a lessee of some Indian allotments in the Indian pasture south of here, this year has cultivated 200 acres of melons, the seeds from which he is selling to a Kansas City seed house for 12 cents per pound. The juice is being manufactured into a syrup by a new process. His crop is unusually fine and he has found that more money can be realized from the growing of melons than from any other branch of farming.

TOURIST CAR IS HOSPITAL.

Old Coach Is Used by Physicians to Shelter Unfortunates.

San Francisco.—An old Pullman tourist car, bearing a sign reading "Emergency Hospital," has stood on a siding in the network of Southern Pacific tracks at Fourth and King streets ever since the earthquake, and is still serving as the company's hospital.

"With the hospitals of the city in ruins, the hospital on wheels would have paid for itself a dozen times even if it had been made of solid gold," said Dr. Vincent Brown, the physician in charge. "More than 500 unfortunates, some maimed and injured and others dying, have been treated in the last month in the improvised hospital."

In the excitement following the earthquake and fire the old tourist car was rigged up with surgical appliances and soon became a complete emergency hospital.

MANY MYSTERIES OF SLUMBER

Philosophers Slept Soundly While Soldier Was Wakeful.

Great men sleep less, most of them, than the cumbrous farm hand. Napoleon, according to easily beguiled biographers, was content for years with four or five hours a day. But Descartes slept ten hours every night, Kant had to be routed from bed with a sponge of cold water and Montaigne lived in his nightcap.

A serious-minded person inquires, Why do we sleep? To rest. But why to rest? Our hearts do not suspend action in rest, at least not occasionally. Our lungs neither. There is a mystery in this simple subject, sleep, and the thoughtful English, brilliant French, solemn German, simple Russian, scintillating Italian scientists have failed to explain more than the mummery, the yawns and drooping, the closed eyes and stentorian tones.

Why do we sleep? The soul's unconsciousness, a writer in the London Spectator surmises, is necessary to our (moral or mental) well-being. It is a naive idea; but are dreams provided as well for our edification, and if so, why should pie, prosaic mince or poetic cherry, in too grave quantities provoke strange elf and monsters?

What of the curtain drawn about the world, and of the dramas and the tragedies crowded on the narrow stage of dreams? "In thoughts from visions of the night, when deep sleep falleth on men. Fear came upon me, and trembling, which made all my bones to shake. Then a spirit passed before my face; the hair of my flesh stood up." What be these visions of the night that Job, too, saw, and whence these transient wounds?

In this way borderland, where wander every man so quietly, there are mysteries yet untold. Is there no message of them?

OCEAN GIANT HAS MANY USES.

Blubber Not the Only Valuable Thing Taken from Whale.

We are only just beginning to recognize the great value to mankind of the whale. Prof. Muller, who has spent several years on and near the Canadian coast, has found a means of extracting the milk of the whale, and analysis of this shows it to be quite as nutritious as ordinary cow's milk. It contains, at the same time, additional valuable medicinal properties somewhat similar to those contained in cod liver oil and it is distinctly pleasant to taste.

The professor has also had various inner skins of the whale scientifically tanned by a new process, with the result that he can supply an excellent leather in a single piece, measuring 300 feet long by 3½ feet broad. Such dimensions have never been possible before.

The flesh has been subjected to a treatment which makes it quite edible, and the mammoth skeleton is ground to bone powder, making a splendid fertilizer, while the gristle and cartilage are converted into glue.

Conceit That Had a Fall.

Gov. Pardee of California was talking about a fire insurance agent who had disappointed him.

"This man," said Dr. Pardee, "had spoken so generously at first about the payment of all claims in full that my disappointment at his later expression was incredibly great."

"I was as disappointed as a man who had just returned from a month's vacation. This man got out of the train with his bags and valises, and with expanded chest trudged homeward through the hot city, pleasantly conscious that he looked as brown as a berry, as hard as nails—in the pink of condition after his long month in the sun and wind."

"Suddenly he met a friend. This friend shook him by the hand, peered hard in his face and said, anxiously: 'Hello! Going out of town for a few days, I suppose from your luggage? Well, I'm glad to see it, for, by George, you need a change. You certainly do look tuckered out.'" as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists. Price 75c per bottle. BIG SANDY NEWS.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY.

Job Printing

Some of you are paying more for your job printing than the Big Sandy News office charges, and getting a poorer class of work and a cheaper grade of stock. It is worth your while to investigate.

RUBBER STAMPS

Rubber stamps are a great convenience for certain purposes. They are not suitable for printing your letter heads and envelopes. Neatly printed stationery looks business-like and is cheaper, all things considered, than buying blank stock and stamping it yourself.

However, we furnish rubber stamps at 10 cents for a single line 3 inches or less in length. 35 cents for 3 lines 3 inches or less.

Seals, Stock Certificates, &c.

OFFICERS' AND NOTARY SEALS.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

George Moore dropped dead on the C. & O. Thursday evening between Olive Hill and Enterprise.

The third and last school examination for this year will be held at Wayne, W. Va., Sept. 13th and 14th, 1906.

The Mingo News, a well printed paper, has appeared in Williamson. It is a Democratic weekly, ably edited by S. D. Stokes.

John Heston, our popular whiskey trimmer, is building a neat little cottage in the west end of town, corner of Third Avenue and Ben street.—Williamson Item.

Maysville, Ky., Aug. 27.—The large wholesale whiskey warehouse of Poyntz Bros. here was badly damaged by fire. The loss is about $5,000, fully insured. Walter Watson of Charleston, W. Va., and A. Fox Respass, of Frankfort, had their furniture stored in the building and all is a total loss.

Wayne county is being condemned for its carelessness in looking after roads. In the last few days 700 persons have been injured near Bowen from the bad conditions of the roads and one of them, Mrs. Dr. Adkins, a prominent lady of this locality, is yet bedfast. A suit, it is said, will be instituted against the county by the woman.—Huntington Herald.

Brinkley, Ky., Aug. 24.—Silas Martin was shot from ambush and seriously wounded on Beaver creek, a few miles east of here. He is a son of Wyatt Martin, of the Hall-Martin feud on the Knott-Floyd border. He was hit in the shoulder and a dangerous wound was inflicted. Great excitement prevails. County Judge W. A. Combs ordered sheriff George Hays to summon fifty men to arrest suspects.

Morehead, Ky., Aug. 27.—In a fight seven miles from this town John Riddle shot his son and Allen Jones. Jones and the elder Riddle quarreled over the possession of a musical instrument, and, it is said, Riddle began firing at Jones. Riddle's son interfered, and while attempting to prevent the trouble received a wound in the shoulder. Jones, though seriously injured, may recover. Officers were dispatched to the scene of the trouble this morning with a warrant for Riddle.

A conference has been held at Columbus, Ohio, between Henry C. King and others at which was concluded a compromise of the litigation between King, W. M. Ritter Lumber Co., Panther Lumber Co. and Hiram M. Sibley, the latter of New York, over certain timber boundaries claimed by King adversaries to the parties just mentioned.

Mr. King, it is understood, was paid $75,000 cash, and King relinquished his claim and title to certain tracts of land which he claimed as part of the 500,000 acre grant.

With last evening's session the State Sunday School convention, and has been held at Cliffside Park for the last three days closed. There was a large attendance, and the delegates were full of enthusiasm, making the meeting interesting, instructive and beneficial. Some excellent talks were made by those who have made Sunday School work a life-long study, and helpful ideas were exchanged, arousing new ambitions in the workers, and giving them inspiration for better work in the future.

The delegates were cordially received and entertained by our people, and were very appreciative of the courtesies extended them. They were a very superior aggregation, and made many warm and lasting friendships during their three days' stay with us.—Independent.

Richmond, Ky., Aug. 27.—James Likings and Preston Stacy, employees of the Louisville and Atlantic Railroad Company, last night started to walk across a forty-five-foot bridge on the above named road. When the two men reached the middle of the trestle they came upon six negroes, who refused to let them pass. A fight took place between them. Likings was either knocked or fell from the bridge and was instantly killed, his neck being broken and his skull crushed shapeless.

Stacy succeeded in getting away. He ran back to the city and notified the police, who hurried to the scene. The negroes had disappeared, and up to a late hour to-night no trace of them was had.

The above is the story told by Stacy before the Coroner's jury. The officers will make a thorough investigation. Likings was twenty-three years of age and leaves a wife and three small children. His remains were taken back to Morgan to-day for burial.

Information has been received that W. B. Farrald was killed yesterday by a stroke of lightning near Torrent, in Wolf county. Mr. Farrald was a salesman for the Montenegro-Riehm Piano Company, and had gone to Wolf county on a business trip. Yesterday afternoon, soon after he had left the house of a customer near Torrent, a storm came up and he was struck by lightning, evidently being killed instantly. His body was soon afterward found and taken to the house he had left a short time before.

Mr. Farrald was thirty-five years old, and had been in the employ of the piano company for about eighteen months. His home was formerly in Grayson, Ky., where he married Miss Vincent, daughter of a prominent farmer near that place. His wife and four children survive him. He was born in Alabama, where his relatives now live. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge at Grayson. Mr. Farrald carried a considerable amount of insurance in his life, but one policy of $5,000 had recently been allowed to lapse.

Special Prices on White Goods, Linen Waists, Misses' and Ladies' Skirts. Muslin Underwear of every description and at wonderfully low figures, at Racket Store.

Monday Judge Rardin heard and decided eleven cases for failing to work the roads in road precinct 69, located on Brush creek, Greenup county. Of the eleven defendants, nine were found guilty and fined five dollars each and costs. The fines and costs in each case amounted to from fourteen to fifteen dollars. The nine defendants refused to pay or replevy and were remanded by Judge Rardin to jail, where they will remain until the fines are satisfied. The confinement in jail does not pay the fines and costs, which may be collected hereafter by execution or attachment; so what have the defendants gained by going to jail, except temporary relief.

The Racket Store has just received a new line of Shirt Waists for Misses and Ladies. Also Ladies', Misses' and Children's Hats.
